TWO AGED COUPLES WEDDED 50 YEARS

Capital People Will Celebrate Robert Lobban's Bull Golden Anniversaries in the Next Two Days.

In the next two days the same number of golden weddings will be celebrated in this city.

On Monday Capt. Isaac Robinson Bowen and Mrs. Bowen, 2170 Eighteenth street northwest, will reach the half century mark of married life. At their home an informal reception will be given and besides the many friends of the couple in Washington, many outof-town guests are expected.

Captain Bowen was a skipper in the civil war. He commanded the steamer Clyde, owned by the founder of the Clyde line. When the war broke out the ship was put into the service of the United States, and, before the end of the war, Captain Bowen was promoted to master of transportation on the Potomac. After the war, he entered the service of the Clyde line, and it was he who devised the private signal which is now used by the line. For six-teen years he has been connected with the American Security and Trust Com-nany.

Mrs. Bowen was Miss Mary Viney before marriage. The children of Cap-tain and Mrs. Bowen are R. S. Bowen, secretary of the Washington Railway and Electric Company; Carry F., Mary Emma, J stuart, and James L. Bowen.

Second Celebration.

On the following day another golden wedding will be celebrated at 210 Tenth street southeast, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Prosperi. In the evening a reception will be held and the couple will receive congratulations from their

Both Mr. and Mrs. Prosperi were born in Washington and have lived here all their lives. Mr. Prosperi was born in 1840 and his wife a year later. They knew each other from children, and their marriage was the outcome of long friendship. It was performed in Christ Episcopal Church by the Rev. Dr. Morsell on April 15, 1863. The church is still in use, and stands but a little distance from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Prosperi.

Mr. Prosperi is a veteran of the civil war. He served in the Twelfth New York, the Fifteenth Engineers, and, finally in the First Cavalry under Sheridan, and was with the regiment in the famous Shenandoah valley campaign. Is Able Musician.

Mr. Prosperi is now employed at the Government Printing Office. For a number of years he was a musician by profession, and occasionally he still plays for his friends. Last year Mr. Prosper celebrated his fiftieth anniversary as an Odd Fellow.

Mrs. Prosperi was formerly Miss Elizabeth Ramsey. The children of the marriage are five, all of this city—Mrs. Morris Ottobach, Mrs. Charles F. Fenner, Mrs. Lee L. Harrell, Clara and Lucy Prosperi.

Argument in Building

The motion to quash a charge of violating the building regulations on the basis that the regulations are nonenforceable, in that Congress, in giving the Commissioners power to enact them, did not empower the heads of the local government to affix a penalty clause to the ordinances, was not argued in the Police Court yesterday, as Assistant Corporation Counsel Wil-Assistant Corporation Counsel Williams asked that the argument of the motion be deferred to give him time to prepare the Government's case. Attorney James A. O'Shea, who was to argue the motion in behalf of his client, Frank D. McAuliffe, a builder, and the defendant charged with a trivial violation of the regulations was present, but acquiesced in the postponement of the argument.

Thirteen Club Fails

Breaking looking glasses and every possible act which is supposed to Hearing Is Granted make fortune frown, was in vogue Inst night at the annual dinner of the Thirteen Club at the New Varnum Hotel. The seats were arranged so that the number thirteen was used as often as possible and every ill omen which could be devised was in evidence. The Thirteen Club is a New York organization. The members left their homes on Friday night, arriving here yesterday. They spent the day sightseeing and will return to New York tonight.

The dinner was a great success, despite the numberless evil omens. Tax Commissioner M. J. Langan, of the borough of Richmond; Louis N. Dannitan, and Dr. W. E. MacMurrough spoke. inst night at the annual dinner of the

One of the features of the show was Mrs. Raymond Belmont's blue ribbon terrier, Cupid of Allandale. Cupid won handlly in his class, much to Mrs. Belmont's gratification. He will be taken to the Norfolk show.

Considerable rivalry was shown in the classes for packs of fox hounds. The classes finally narrowed down to a pack owned by Cy Cummings and another owned by the Piedmont Hunt Club. After examining the hounds as packs and then examining the individuals, the judges finally awarded the blue to the Piedmont Hunt Club. Charles H. Mason judged the events with such skill that not a protest was

Critics View Work Of Capital Painters

The twenty-second annual exhibit of Washington artists will open in the emicycle room of the Corcoran Art Gallery tomorrow. Last night a private opening was held, and many of the art overs and critics of the city attended. The lights are arranged so as to afford perfect views of the paintings. The awards of the judges met with favorable comment from those who viewed the exhibit last night, and the high

Late in January.

Thirty American soldiers, seventeen of them seriously wounded, are in Manila Hospital as the result of the Moro siege of the town of Jolo, lasting since the latter part of January. Manila papers just arriving in this country bear this information.

A censorship in the islands makes it difficult to obtain definite information as to conditions, but it is known that American soldiers are chafing under the orders not to return the Moro fire.

On the night of February 25, a one-side battle was fought. The moros sent more than 1,000 shots into the town, wounding four American seriously.

"Come out you cursed American piga and fight like men or we will make you swim to Zamboanga." Is the taunt the Moros hurled at the Americans from
